

CHURCH WORLD SERVICE

Best Gift

—MOMENT FOR MISSION—

Does anyone here give those cozy, comfy blankets at Christmas?

The Sherpa-lined ones that you cuddle up with on a cold evening?

The ones you would give to someone you love, like your grandparents or children?

What if I told you that a blanket is the best gift you could give this season?

Imagine being without shelter, a place without warmth, in the frigid winter air. You would be miserable, cold to the bone.

Now imagine what it feels like, in the midst of that bone-chilling cold, to be offered a blanket. That's the kind of action that warms you from the inside out; it means you can wrap up against the cold temperatures...or even use it to create a temporary shelter from the rain and other elements. It also means that someone cares - and that's the part that warms the soul.

You could give to Best Gift Blankets today and provide someone with shelter.

Today, you can show you care by supporting blankets for someone who needs one. You can provide an entire family with shelter and comfort. For $10 a blanket, you could provide protection, you could provide warmth.

With a simple blanket, you can change someone's life.

Please, give a blanket today to share the warmth of love. You could give in honor of your loved one - give them a blanket and also give someone in need a blanket! Make someone's Christmas this year.

Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh.
