—MOMENT FOR MISSION—

Who knew chickens could change a life? Have you ever thought that chickens and other farm animals are essential to so many people and their livelihoods? That raising chickens supports their families? That having a flock of chickens could help families out of poverty?

Unfortunately, poverty and not having enough food to eat is the reality of many people.

But by investing in flocks of chickens, you could help families out of poverty. You could help them have a stable income so they can feed their children.

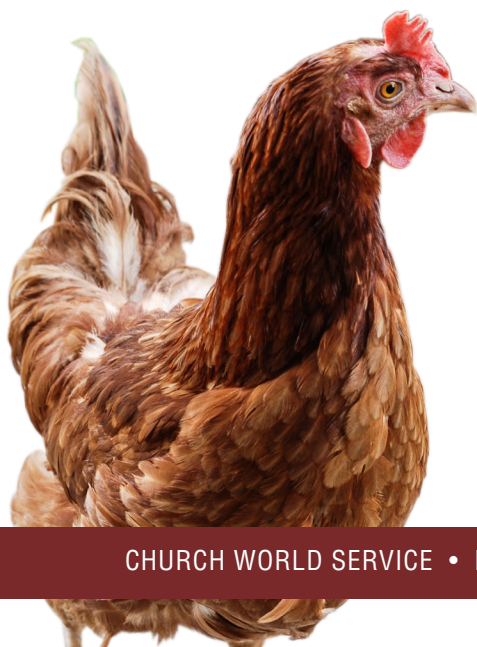

A great story that comes to mind is Len - she joined a Church World Service program about raising chickens.

She learned how to care for her flock so that they would survive and thrive. Plus, she received a flock to get started.

Len has been so successful, expanding her flock to more than 200 chickens. She worked on securing a contract with a local merchant to sell about 40 pounds of chicken each week!

There are so many stories like this one all over the world. Chickens and farm animals are essential to so many families.

All of this was made possible because of people like you who donate to Best Gift. Consider donating today and support people like Len who just want the best for their families.

Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh.
